SHERMAN SAYS HE IS SATISFIED

Hamilton Wife Murderer is Sentenced to Prison For Life.

Motion For a New Trial is Overruled—Prisoner Thanks the Judge.

Charles Victor Sherman, convicted of murder in the second degree, the killing of his wife, Mayme Conner Sherman, was sentenced to imprisonment for life in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus by Judge Belden Monday.

The case came up shortly after 9 o'clock on the motion filed by the defense for a new trial. Sherman was brought in by the Sheriff. He was cool and collected and knew what was coming.

The motion for a new trial was submitted without argument and in passing upon and overruling it the court said that no grounds for error were manifest and that the motion could not be sustained.

Upon the rendition of the decision Judge Belden said to the defendant:

"Stand up and come forward, Mr. Sherman," and as Sherman obeyed the court further said:

"You have been convicted of the crime of murder in the second degree. Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon you?"

"I have nothing to say, judge," answered Sherman, "except to thank you for the fair treatment you gave me during the trial."

"This court has always endeavored to give everybody coming before it fair treatment," said the Judge. "But you have been convicted of a great crime. You were indicted for murder in the first degree and you have been convicted of murder in the second degree. You slew your wife, whom you had sworn to cherish and protect, in a brutal manner and without just cause. The sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus during the period of your natural life and at hard labor, no part of your imprisonment to include solitary confinement. Take charge of the prisoner, Mr. Sheriff."

Sherman was not in the court room to exceed five minutes. He took his sentence without flinching. Speaking of it later he said briefly, "I'm satisfied."

MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

Elected Its Officers and Adopted Its Constitution Last Night.

About fifteen members of the Merchants' Association gathered last evening in the office of R. F. Seudder and after adopting a constitution and set of by-laws, elected the following directors: John E. Winship, Warder Wyatt, John Kenuard, Will M. Bliss, A. F. Stewart and R. H. Jones.

The directors organized as follows: John Kennard, president; Will M. Bliss, vice president, and R. H. Jones, secretary and treasurer.

The Association is now in a position to receive applications for membership. An entrance fee of $3 is required and the dues will be 20 cents per week. About forty merchants have already joined.

Nearly one-half of the 2011 clubs in England are golf clubs. Of the 250 social clubs in London twenty-six are for women alone and six others admit women. The largest women's club has 3700 members.

AMOUNT OF MAIL

Carried by Railroads is Now Being Ascertained by Government Agents.

Beginning last Wednesday morning, all mails carried by the railroads are to be weighed by government agents, who are deputized in the State. This weighing of the mails will continue for from four to six weeks and upon the average of weight found by the government agents, will be determined the amounts to be paid for the carrying of the government's mail sack.

This weighing of the mails takes place once every four years, and the rates decided upon are effective for the four years following the period of weighing. The government agents take entire charge of the work, going on the trains and being posted at the terminals. They require from the railroad employees only such aid as is necessary for carrying on their duties, and thus the train men are instructed to give them.

MANY MINERS ARE ENTOMBED

A Terrible Mine Disaster is Reported Near Birmingham Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 21.—A terrible disaster occurred in the Virginia mines, which are located about eighteen miles from Birmingham. One hundred and five men are entombed in the mine, and it is believed that all are dead. Relief trains are carrying physicians and laborers to the scene of the disaster from Birmingham and Bessemer. The mines belong to the Alabama Steel and Wire company. Both white and colored miners are employed and only recently union miners went to work. The mines are considered models of their kind.

The class of miners employed was the best in the district, and all belonged to the United Mine Workers of America. Since the strike has been on in the Birmingham district, many of the most industrious and thrifty miners of Pratt City and other important mining points have removed to the Virginia mines, so that the mines were being worked to their full capacity by the most skilled miners in the community.

SHIPPED TO SPAIN

Gaar, Scott & Company, the Richmond threshing machine manufacturers, have received an order from the Spanish government for a complete outfit to be shipped to that country.

The reception of the machinery will mark an epoch in agricultural affairs of that government. Although modern threshing machinery is used in Spain, no American machinery of this sort has been introduced and the Richmond concern invades the country at the invitation of government officials. In a letter received by Gaar, Scott & Company, the following special order is given: "Please give special attention to the machinery, especially as to finish, as his majesty, the king, will personally attend the starting of the machinery."

BOTH FACE PENALTY

Mason, Mich., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Carrie Joslyn, who pleaded guilty to murdering her husband by poison, and Isaac Swain, her paramour and former firm friend of the Joslyns, were both sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison at Jackson. Swain was convicted of murder principally on the evidence of Mrs. Joslyn.

DR. LOT GREEN PASSES AWAY

Death of one of Rush County's Highly Respected and Well Known Physicians.

Funeral Will be Held Thursday Afternoon Under Auspices of I. O. O. F. & K. of P.

After an illness of but a few days, resulting from a sudden stroke of paralysis, Dr. Lot Green, one of the best known and highly respected physicians in the county, passed away at 2 o'clock this morning at his home in this city. The end was peaceful and only the sorrowing family were present when the spirit passed from this life to that beyond.

Dr. Green had been failing since 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and the family had been prepared for the worst. Stricken down so suddenly, it does not seem possible that one who has been so faithful in caring for the needs of others, and who, up to the time of his death had been a central figure among the people of our city and county, has been taken from us. Dr. Green, it may be said, gave up his life for others, because in caring for his many patients, he was up both night and day, sacrificing his own rest in order that someone who was in need of medical attention might be saved.

Dr. Lot Green was almost 58 years of age. He was born in Arlington, July 29th, 1847. He was a son of Dr. J. W. and Mary J. (Gowdy) Green, and natives of Rush county and since residents of Shelbyville. He was reared at Arlington, where his father was engaged in the practice of medicine. He received a good common school education, studied medicine with his father, and later entered the medical department of Butler College from which he graduated in 1880. He first practiced medicine at Arlington, and later came to this city, where he and his son have established a heavy practice.

In 1872 he was married to Cordelia Barnard, daughter of Barsilla and Rachael Barnard, of Posey township, this county. Five sons were born to them, Lucien, of Indianapolis; Hallie W., Dr. Frank H., Charles and Derby, all of this city and all of whom with the widow survive.

Dr. Green was a member of the I. O. O. F. and K. of P. lodges, and was a staunch Republican. He began life a poor man, but through industry and perseverance rose to a position, eminently successful. He was an honorable man in every respect and held the respect and confidence of the people.

The funeral services will be held at the late residence on Perkins street, Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Virgil W. Tevis, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, assisted by Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, and under the auspices of Franklin Lodge No. 33 I. O. O. F. and Ivy Lodge No. 27. K. of P., of which the deceased was a member. The interment will be in East Hill cemetery.

CARTHAGE WRECK

[Special to the DAILY REPUBLICAN.]

Carthage, Ind., February 20th.—The caboose and a coal car of a through freight were thrown from the track Sunday about midnight, just as they were entering town, caused from a broken rail. Fortunately no one was badly hurt, but it seems almost a miracle that they were not, as the caboose was thrown with such force as to turn it over and it was pushed almost two squares after it left the track. The conductor of the train suffered some severe bruises, but his injuries are not considered serious although he will be laid up for some time. He with three brakemen were in the caboose. The Greensburg wrecking crew was called and cleared away the wreck after traffic had been delayed several hours.

THE MONDAY CIRCLE.

Interesting Meeting Yesterday Afternoon at the Home of Mrs. Hannah Sexton.

The Monday Circle held an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hannah Sexton. The day was observed as guest day and many were present. Following is the program:

Piano duet—Mrs. Sallie Parsons, Miss Jennie Madden.

Song—"America," Circle.

"The Washingtons," Mrs. Mattie Sniff.

Recitation—"The Eloping of 1775," Mrs. Glen Thomas.

"National Airs" Miss Ida Spurrier.

The meeting was in honor of Washington's birthday and the program was of a patriotic nature.

KANSAS PEOPLE ARE IN EARNEST

Fight Against Standard Oil Co. Takes a New Turn of Affairs.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 21.—Senator Fitzpatrick has introduced in the Senate a resolution calling upon the president, the secretary of the interior and the congress of the United States to hold up and annul the "Foster lease" of the Osage Indian reservation, which the secretary of the interior has declared was obtained by fraud.

The proceedings by the Standard Oil company in Washington to obtain a renewal of the "Foster lease" have, it is said, caused the oil producers of Kansas, who are behind the legislation aimed at that company, more apprehension than anything else.

The investigation of the Standard Oil company's methods in Kansas which the president has directed Commissioner Garfield to make, while much desired in Kansas, is regarded here as a minor question in comparison with the movement to annul the "Foster lease."

Once secure in its renewal of this lease, the Standard would, some of the Kansas legislators declare, be independent of all other production and the thousands of dollars which have been invested in the Kansas and Indian Territory field by individuals would be wasted and destroyed.

CLEVELAND TO BE INVESTIGATED

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 21.—In the city council last night Mayor Tom L. Johnson directly charged Councilman Dewar Wilke (Dem.) with having accepted bribes from the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company. At the same time Mayor Johnson charged that the votes of all the Republican members of the city council had been influenced by contributions from that company to the last campaign fund of the Republican organization and to the campaign expenses of the Republican candidates for city council. The charges are the outcome of Mayor Johnson's allegation of two weeks ago that the recent defeat of the ordinance to annex the village of South Brooklyn to the city of Cleveland had been brought about by undue influence. At last Monday night's meeting of the council the mayor repeated his statements of alleged bribery and of undue influence, but gave no names. His accusations were denied with much emphasis by several of the Republican councilmen, and specific charges in writing were demanded. These were made last night. The council immediately adopted a resolution to investigate itself.

Bold Cossack Reconnaissance.

Mukden, Feb. 21.—General Rennenkampff's division, which moved out Feb. 14th, has returned from a daring reconnaissance, having succeeded in passing around the Japanese left flank and penetrating well to the rear, causing considerable consternation along the line of Japanese communications. The losses were insignificant. It was merely a raid, with no intention to strike in the direction of Yinkow.

FIRST SINGLE PHASE ROAD

Something About the Indiana-polis and Cincinnati Traction Line.

Building of Road Marks a New Era in Construction of Interurbans.

Charles Broadhead, assistant superintendent of the city water and light plant, has presented us with a copy of the February Western Electrician, which contains a two page article on our new traction line. This article is too long for us to reprint at one time so in order to give our readers an idea of the magnitude and the importance of the I. & C. to the electric world, we will divide the article into a series which we will print from time to time, giving the Western Electrician due credit for the same. The Electrician says:

An electric railway 120 miles in length operated from a single power house would have been regarded a short time ago as impracticable by even the most progressive engineers, and would have been said to be commercially impossible without the use of rotary converter sub-stations. Nevertheless, the opening of the year 1905 finds the construction of such a line well advanced and a portion of the road in actual operation.

This epoch-making engineering achievement is accomplished by the use of the alternating-current single-phase railway motor recently perfected by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. The first to adopt and put in operation this system is the Indianapolis Cincinnati Traction company of Indianapolis, Ind., of which Mr. Charles L. Henry is president and general manager.

Starting from Indianapolis, the road will pass through the towns of Irvington, Julieta, New Palestine, Reedville, Fountaintown, Morristown, Gwynneville, Arlington, Rushville, Glenwood, Connerville, Dunlapsville, Oxford, Hamilton and Cincinnati. It has already been constructed as far as Rushville, Ind., and, in the course of the present year, will be extended to Connerville. It is the intention of the company to push through to Cincinnati at the earliest possible date. At the present time about 40 miles of road are in operation, and the new system has been shown to be a complete success and thoroughly to justify the wisdom of President Henry and his consulting engineers, Sargent & Lundy, of Chicago, in adopting the alternating current for this important operation.

EDITOR CHARGED WITH LIBEL

New York, Feb. 21.—Dennis Donohue, financial editor of the New York Commercial, who has been running in a magazine a series of articles "The Truth About Frenzied Finance," which are in reply to the statement of Thos. W. Lawson about financial conditions, was arrested on a warrant issued upon complaint of Herbert Gray of Haverhill, Mass. The complaint alleges that Donohue made statements reflecting upon him amounting to criminal libel, in his replies to Lawson's articles. Donohue was paroled when arraigned in police court.

Assassin Still Unknown.

Moscow, Feb. 21.—Although the identity of the assassin of the Grand Duke Sergius has not yet been ascertained, the police have become convinced he is not a workman, but a man of good birth. His underclothing is of good quality and fashionably made, and his outer workman's garments evidently were assumed as a disguise.

Liquid Munitions of War.

Port Louis, Moratins, Feb. 21.—The Russian second Pacific squadron, with colliers, totalling seventy ships, was still at Nossi Be on Feb. 16. The Russians were buying stores largely, especially wines and liquors. They asked for 10,000 bags of flour and 50,000 cars of potatoes at prices meaning fortunes for the sellers.

TO SAVE THE QUAIL

Commissioner Sweeney Permits Farmers to Net Quail and Feed Them in Winter

Z. T. Sweeney, late fish and game commissioner, has a plan for the preservation of the quail in Indiana, by which he hopes to prevent the decimation of the birds in the State. Mr. Sweeney's plan is to give permission to a number of influential farmers to net quail in the fall and feed them during the winter. In the spring these birds will be turned loose to shift for themselves.

Mr. Sweeney does not intend to allow indiscriminate netting of quail, but his idea is to give permission to responsible persons. The farmers who take advantage of this permission will have to do the netting under the supervision of some person in authority, and will have to furnish the game commissioner with a signed statement showing how many birds were taken.

In the spring, or as soon as the weather moderates, the farmer will be required to give an account of the number of birds taken in the fall, showing whether any have died, and will then be required to turn them loose. The farmer's responsibility for the netted birds then ends. It is the opinion of Mr. Sweeney that this plan will save enough birds for the opening of the season. He will put the plan in effect next fall.

THE PROBLEM OF HEATING THE CARS

A Question That Has Bothered the Traction Men of all Lines.

The matter of heating electric cars in winter, is a question that bothers the car companies not a little. Electric heaters are very expensive, although the best means of furnishing heat with the least exertion. However, the expense is so great that many of the electric lines will take out their electric heaters and install other means of making their cars warm and comfortable.

The Dayton and Northern will take all their electric heaters out next summer, and when winter arrives will be equipped with a system of hot water or steam heat in each car. This system is used on most of the cars on the line running from Dayton to Cincinnati and is quite successful. It consists of a series of iron pipes encircling the car on the inside, and hot water or steam is driven through by means of heat furnished by a stove in one corner of the car. The stove is not designed to heat the car, but is only for the purpose of keeping the water hot.

This system is being used on the new cars of the I. & C., but it is not giving the best of satisfaction. The temperature of the cars has been rather chilly ever since they were started. The system, in itself is alright if the cars could be kept closed continually, but the doors are opened so often that the temperature is lowered each time by the influx of air.

Classes for the study of German and Yiddish have been organized by Loudon commissioners of police.

For the first time since 1672 the annual meeting of the Society of Friends will be held this year out of London. Friends having been chosen for the assembly of the delegates.

NO FOOLISHNESS

Gov. Hanly Will Have No "Freak"
Legislation In His.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—In vetoing Senator Barcus' "spite-fence" bill Governor Hanly took occasion to protest against enactment of legislation with emergency clauses attached making them take effect immediately on passage. He pointed out that the emergency clause is seldom necessary and is applied too frequently without cause. As to the merits of the bill it was petty in character and unnecessary as there is already a law to protect people against maintenance of a public nuisance. The bill was one of the "freaks" of the session being the result of a quarrel between two well-to-do property owners at Terre Haute, one of whom built a "spite fence" obstructing the view of his neighbor. The bill provided that such fences should not be over six feet high. Governor Hanly also vetoed Senator Lyons' bill providing for ferment of Spanish-American war veterans over other applicants for minor positions in state institutions.

Since the sudden termination of the negotiations between the city of Indianapolis and the railroads looking to elevation of tracks here, there are rumors that the railroad and private bankers' lobbies have joined hands with the object of defeating all legislation antagonistic to their interests. This has not been confirmed, but is believed by many to be the actual condition of affairs. It is admitted, moreover, that if the railroad and private bankers work together against any proposition, the chances are they will win out. Owing to the new developments the odds are strongly against the enactment of any provision for supervision of private banks or elevation of tracks. The private bankers have been stronger than the railroad attorneys, but these shrewd agents have finally worked themselves into the good graces of a majority of the members and are now in position to make a stubborn fight. If it is true that the railroads will have the cooperation of the private bankers, then it is at least ten to one that the track elevation is a dead letter.

The fact that there was no opposition when the senate advanced the track elevation bill to engrossment is taken to mean that they intend to make their fight in the house, where they have a hundred members to deal with. Representative Clifford, chairman of the railroad committee, said the bill is not a question of agreement between the city and the roads and that he and his associates changed it as they thought it should be. He said there are not many purchasable votes in the house, and in his opinion the bill will get through. The situation, however, as to this important matter is about the same as it was two years ago, when the fight came so near the end of the session that the railroads won easily.

Representative Shively, of South Bend, has introduced a bill to kill the graft of the justice of peace professional jurors by providing they cannot serve more than once in six months. In nearly every city in the state the professional jurors hang around the circuit or criminal court rooms and at the justice of peace's offices when the principal courts are not in session. They maneuver in divers ways to get on the juries making a few odd dollars in that way. They stand in with many of the justices with the result that they get considerable employment. Representative Shively's bill will put them out of a job if it becomes a law. A bill has passed the senate giving the jurors in circuit, criminal or superior courts $3.00 a day for their services. The fee is now $2.00 a day.

Wife Murderer Sentenced.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 21.—James O'Neill was last evening sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife on Christmas night. O'Neill was frenzied by drink when he killed his wife and he was found guilty of second degree murder.

Two Enginemen Killed.

Albany, Ga., Feb. 21.—The engine of the regular passenger train on the Central of Georgia railroad went through the bridge spanning the Chattahoochee at Columbus, Ala. The two enginemen were killed.

Mysterious Disappearance.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 21.—Grove Walter, a local attorney and former assistant under State's Attorney Deen, now governor of Illinois disappeared from his home in this city. It is feared he has committed suicide. Walter left Los Angeles on Feb. 2 and three days later a letter was received from him by a friend here, stating that he intended to end his life.

WORKING AT NIGHT

Senate Lengthens Out Its Hours For Deliberation.

A NECESSARY MEASURE

With the Rapid Passing of Time It Became Apparent That Sessions Should Be Longer.

A Bill Has Been Introduced to Give Lew Wallace a Place In Statuary Hall.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 21.—The members of the senate looked a trifle sleepy this morning after their session last night, but they are satisfied that good progress is being made. Speaker Cantwell says the house will not hold night sessions till next week. He is not a believer in them as he figures that the members are tired out at the end of the afternoon. He will urge that the house work longer hours in the daylight.

Senator Moore, of Greencastle, introduced a bill for an appropriation of $5,000 for the erection of a statue in the Statuary hall, Washington, in honor of General Lew Wallace. His motion to pass the bill under suspension of rules was defeated by a vote of twenty-eight to eight. It will now take its regular course. All of the Democrats voted against the suspension of the rules. It is said they hope to have a statue of Thomas A. Hendricks placed in Indiana's vacant niche in Washington.

Senator Kirkman's bill empowering circuit, superior and criminal court judges to parole or suspend sentence of convicts convicted of felonies and misdemeanors except murder or manslaughter, was passed, but several members were opposed to placing so much authority in the hands of the courts.

The house passed Representative Guirl's bill permitting foreign mutual fire insurance companies to operate in Indiana the same as local mutuals. Representative Condo's bill prohibiting county commissioners from giving interurban or steam roads franchises over public highways was passed. The senate passed the codification commission's public highways bill and Representative Ruick's bill exempting property of Greek college fraternities from taxation. The house killed Representative Scifres' resolution providing that no man shall vote who has not paid his poll tax. A bill for an appropriation of $120,000 to pay the Vincennes University claim against the state was introduced by Representative Gaither. The senate and house Republicans caucused last evening and agreed on a legislative reapportionment bill to be introduced immediately. The only changes suggested in the bill prepared a week ago place Stark and Pulaski in a joint representative district with St. Joseph, and Carroll county with Howard and Miami instead of with Cass. The original plan coupled Pulaski with Fulton.

The house bill for a state tax levy of three-fifths of a mill for the benefit of townships that can't raise money enough for their schools was passed without a dissenting vote. It was stated that there are ninety townships in the state where the revenue is insufficient for ninety days.

The Guirl anti-trust bill, the most drastic legislation of the kind ever attempted in Indiana, was advanced to engrossment in the house after two amendments, submitted by Representative Guirl, authorizing the attorney general to draw on the state for all necessary expenses in enforcing the act, were defeated. A temperance was exhibited which indicates that the house is for restricting the trusts as far as possible. The friends of the bill hope to get it through both branches of the legislature by the middle of next week.

The codification commission bills on private corporations and drainage were reported favorably. Representative Long's bill to increase the salary of school teachers was made a special order of business for this afternoon. Representative Sayre tried to kill it on the ground that it would increase taxation.

Writers Will Meet.

Winona Lake, Ind., Feb. 21.—The Western Association of Writers announces its 20th annual meeting for Winona Lake during the first week of July. Charles Eugene Banks, president of the association, announces the following speakers: John McGovern, Colonel William Lightfoot Buscher, Minetta T. Taylor, Opie Read, W. Bangs, Esther Griffin White, the Rev. E. B. Hefley, and others.

A Young Woman's Suicide.

Monon, Ind., Feb. 21.—Miss Maggie Lowther, daughter of James Lowther, a farmer three miles southeast of here, committed suicide by cutting her throat with a razor. She was twenty-six years old and had been in very poor health for several years.

Ice Gorge Breaking.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 21.—Many of the gorges in the Ohio river above and below Evansville are breaking today. The weather is warmer and a general break-up is expected in a few hours. No great damage to river craft is reported.

NEED OF ACTION

Commercial Encroachments on Niagara to Be Checked.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21.—The preservation of Niagara Falls from the encroachment of power companies was the subject of a debate in the general assembly yesterday which protracted the session until nearly 11 p. m. It arose over Assemblyman Palmer's resolution introduced last week, requiring the president and congress to seek negotiations with the British government looking to an international agreement for the protection of the falls.

After a long and heated debate the resolution was referred by a party vote to the committee on federal resolutions. Although there were those, said Mr. Palmer, who could see in the grandeur and beauty of the falls nothing but the dollars and cents into which they can be resolved, every effort should be made to preserve them from the encroachments of water and power companies. "The legislature should not sell this glorious inheritance for a mess of pottage in the shape of tax money."

No Details Announced.

Washington, D. C., February 21.—Senator Baeridge and Senator-elect Hemenway of Indiana introduced to the president H. C. Starr, chairman of the state executive committee, and James T. Goodrich, chairman of the state Republican committee of Indiana. They conferred with the president concerning federal patronage to which Indiana is entitled, but no details were announced.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—District Prefect Guoutnoff of Igdyr, Trans-Caucasia, where the mobs seem to have complete control of the situation, was assassinated by two Armenians.

CHARGES NOT SUSTAINED

West Virginia Boodle Scandal Falls to the Ground.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 21.—The senate investigating committee adjourned last night without substantiating any of the charges made against Governor White or any other state official. The committee was appointed to probe the charges against Governor White made by Senator Caldwell on the floor of the senate, accusing the governor of malfeasance in office. It also fell within the scope of the committee to inquire into newspaper stories and other charges against members of the senate accepting boodle to enact medical legislation. The investigation was conducted in the senate chamber. Senator Caldwell in refutation of the corruption charges made against him in Governor White's message, read the affidavits of doctors interested in the pending medical legislation, clearing him of any charges of accepting money to champion the bill. Governor White made an emphatic statement that he had never shared in the fees of any beneficiary or appointee. Governor-elect Dawson, who was charged with being involved in a scheme to secure a decrease in the fees of foreign corporations in consideration of a division of the decrease to be secured by legislation, also denied any knowledge of the alleged scheme. Senator Caldwell then withdrew the charges and apologized for making the corruption charges against Governor White or Governor-elect Dawson.

To Follow Washington's Plan.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator Frye has introduced in the senate a bill for the establishment of the University of the United States. It provides for the use of the grounds designated by President Washington as University Square, and for the service of the president of the United States, the chief justice of the supreme court and the commissioner of labor on the board of regents.

Twelve Passengers Injured.

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Twelve persons were injured, none seriously, in a wreck near Swanders, forty miles north of Dayton on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road last night. Two coaches left the rails and were overturned.

Deadly Boiler Explosion.

St. Clairsville, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Four men are dead and fourteen injured, three of them seriously, as the result of the explosion of a stationary boiler at No. 1 mine of the Provident Coal company near here.

NAVAL PROGRAM

Its Determination Caused a Peculiar Division In the House.

PARTIES BADLY MIXED

Democrats and Republicans Fraternize in About Equal Ratio on the Division.

The Excitable Mr. Baker of New York Gets in the Lime Light Again.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The house passed the naval appropriation bill, carrying a total of $9,914,359. The provision for two battleships, as reported by the committee on naval affairs, was retained. Both the majority and minority were badly divided over the proposition, at least forty members of the latter going over to the Republicans, while about an equal number of Republicans voted in opposition.

Several important changes in the bill were made. The proposed increase of 1,200 men and officers for the marine corps was stricken out, as was also the provision authorizing the construction of a collier somewhere else than at the Mare Island navy yard in California. In order to do the work better an item of $175,000 was inserted for the proper equipment of the Mare Island yard.

One thing characteristic of the present general assembly in a marked degree in its manifest independence of the influences which often control legislation. The professional lobby has been less in evidence than during any session of the legislature in recent years. Indications of its presence in behalf of any measure have been the strongest argument to be adduced against the bill affected. Partly, no doubt, this is due to the warning note sounded by the outgoing and the incoming governor at the beginning of the session, but partly because it is becoming evident that this is a pretty high grade legislature.

Some Fears Unfulfilled.

It will be remembered that at the beginning of the present general assembly there was a feeling that the majority was "top heavy"—that there was danger in excessive numbers. It was believed that the influence of such unusual party strength would be toward excesses in legislation. But up to this time the general assembly has done nothing rash—in fact it has been extremely conservative in its attitude toward every question which has been up for discussion.

The greater service of the present general assembly has been in the number of bad and foolish measures put out of the way rather than in the quantity of its contributions to the statute books, which, from present indications, will be somewhat meager.

In its attitude towards moral questions the present legislature has been in touch with the best sentiment of the state. The amendment of the Nicholson law was followed by the favorable consideration of a bill, which, if passed, as it doubtless will be, will mark high tide in anti-cigarette legislation. The Parks' bill makes not only the manufacture and sale, but the possession of cigarettes or the "makings" thereof illegal, and heavily penalizes infractions of the law.

The Newhouse Bill.

A vote of thirty-eight to nothing indicates a degree of unanimity that it would be difficult to surpass. This was the vote in the senate when the Newhouse railroad commission bill came up for third reading. There was almost no discussion, though of course the bill was not exactly what every one would have it to be. Senator Slack sought to introduce partisan politics into the consideration of the measure, and declared that if congress would strengthen the interstate commerce commission sufficiently no such legislation would be required by the states. This, of course, ignores the fact that one of the difficulties in the way of national legislation on this very subject is Democratic opposition based upon states' rights and upon the assumption that it is the states themselves that should be permitted to make such laws as they desire bearing upon the subject.

It was rather an unfortunate suggestion to come from a Democratic source, but it was not taken seriously and the senator himself voted for the bill.

The senate bill met with the same degree of favor in the house committee on railroads and on Thursday was favorably reported by a unanimous vote of the committee.

Last Week a Busy One.

Last week was a busy though a quiet one, for the members of the general assembly, and much substantial progress was made in the consideration of pending legislation. The senate has moved with greater rapidity than the house, in harmony with the well established principle that large bodies move slowly. The codification bills continue to hold the center of the stage in both houses. The bill on eminent domain has passed the senate and is now in the house committee. The house will take favorable action on the criminal code bill in the near future, and pass it on to the

A PLACID SESSION

Remarkable Quietude Characterizes Deliberations of the Indiana General Assembly.

NO TROUBLE-BREEDING MEASURES

Things Going on in a Very Matter-of-Fact Way, the Brunt of the Work Falling Upon the Busy Members in the Committee Room.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, Feb. 21.—In commenting the other day on the placidity of the present session of the general assembly up to that time, an experienced legislator ventured the opinion that the remarkable quietude which had characterized the proceedings was in all probability only a fore-runner of tempestuous times to come. The trouble-breeding measures, he thought, were being held back, but he felt that there was scant chance of the much longer continuance of tranquility.

But this prediction has not been verified. Last week was perhaps the quietest of the entire session up to this time. No issue has arisen of a character calculated to create unusual excitement upon the floor of either house. Things have been going on in a very matter of fact way, and to a degree unknown in any legislature of recent years. The brunt of the work has fallen upon the committees. There has been more "threshing out" of proposed legislation there than in the halls of the general assembly.

One thing characteristic of the present general assembly in a marked degree in its manifest independence of the influences which often control legislation. The professional lobby has been less in evidence than during any session of the legislature in recent years. Indications of its presence in behalf of any measure have been the strongest argument to be adduced against the bill affected. Partly, no doubt, this is due to the warning note sounded by the outgoing and the incoming governor at the beginning of the session, but partly because it is becoming evident that this is a pretty high grade legislature.

One report was not made, however, until the matter of its constitutionality had been submitted to Attorney General Miller. The members of the committee are warmly in favor of the bill and the sentiment of the people as well as that among the members is such that provisions such as those included in this measure are almost certain to be enacted. The measure is thoroughly in harmony with the spirit that is growing more and more restive throughout the country under the continued aggressions of corporations, which, not content with the use of privileges, insist upon abusing them.

No consideration has been given by the majority to the proposal, coming from the Democratic side and championed by the Democratic state organ, that the state should borrow a million dollars for the purpose of tiding itself over the period of extraordinary institutional construction. It was the policy of borrowing money to meet current expenses, which during the last period of Democratic control in Indiana, raised the bonded indebtedness of the state nearly $8,000,000 and increased the interest charge against Indiana taxpayers to nearly $1,000 a day. The attitude of the minority in the present general assembly and of the Democratic state organ, makes it certain that a return to Democratic management of the state's fiscal and legislative affairs would mean another period of debt-making, although there is not at this time a progressive commonwealth in the Union which is not seeking to extinguish its bonded indebtedness.

Election and Primary Reform.

The senate on Saturday passed unanimously what is known as the Hugg "pure election bill." As amended it places a penalty on both the voter-buyer and the voter-seller and exempts from punishment the party to the corrupt contract who furnishes evidence leading to conviction. The penalty is a fine of not to exceed $500, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail or workhouse.

By the same unanimous vote the senate passed a primary election bill also introduced by Senator Hugg, and which applies only to Marion county. This bill introduces sweeping changes in the methods of nominating candidates. Conventions, except to name delegates to national, state or district conventions, are abolished. All nominees must be selected at primaries.

PROTEST OF YOUTH

Young Blood of Russia Revolts at Bureaucratic Tyranny.

STUDIES ARE SUSPENDED

For the Remainder of the Year Russia's Educational System Will Be Stagnated.

Remarkable Meeting of Students
Leads to Equally Notable Action.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—With the decision of the student body of the great university of St. Petersburg, yesterday to suspend studies for the remainder of the university year, almost the whole educational system of Russia has entered upon a period of stagnation, the protest of the youth of Russia against the bureaucratic system and other governmental grievances. Other universities of Russia, gymnasium and even grammar schools were already on strike, and the military in various portions of the empire have been obliged to resort to force to restrain school boys of tender years who are joining the general movement.

The meeting of St. Petersburg students, at which over 3,000 participated, besides voting with practical unanimity to suspend studies until Sept. 1, adopted a set of political resolutions demanding the formation of a constituent assembly and characterizing the proposed summoning of the Zemsky Zobor as inadequate for the emergency. The resolutions after speaking of "The progressive demoralization of Russia under the influence of the absolute regime," declared for freedom of speech, the press, conscience, the right of association and assembly, and to strike, which are described as necessary conditions for the further progress of Russia.

The meeting also unanimously decided to express disapproval of the action of the government in dealing with the workmen who attempted to present their petition to the Emperor on Jan. 22, and its sympathy with the victims of the soldiery. A large faction voted in favor of stopping the war. Strong revolutionary feeling was manifested at the meeting, the red flag was waved and the "Marseillaise" and other revolutionary songs were chanted. A large portrait of the Emperor in the great auditorium of the university where the meeting was held, was torn in strips. The police did not interfere.

Strong forces of police and Cosacks had been posted outside the buildings to prevent an excited street demonstration but none occurred.

Many professors and instructors in the university were present at the meeting, most of whom were in full sympathy with the objects of the assembly. Two tutors and a small number of students who wished to obtain their diplomas this year made an ineffectual attempt to stem the general tide.
